PBDC Federal Group: INVITED TO CUTTING-EDGE R&D AIRFORCE CONFERENCE

Submitted by: Greg Kolean, President PBDC FG

PBDC Federal Group continues to attract world class talent. This includes Potawatomi Training General Manager Dawn Calandra, who formerly was the program manager for the Royal Saudi Air Force English Language Training (ELT) school at Sheppard Air Force Base (SPS) in Texas.

Calandra now oversees the contract that supports the Innovation Center (formerly the Sparks Team) at SPS. SPS is an international operation training site that trains pilots from around the world, including active NATO personnel. Our team at the 80th supports pilot flight training on the T38 and T6 aircraft.

Last year, the Innovation Center created the Aircraft Tractile Training Console (ATTC) to facilitate immersive training for new pilots by creating a training experience that more accurately approximates a real flying experience. Developed by Federal Group programmers (with the help of a 3D printer), the ATTC improves muscle memory and reaction time by including flight sticks and throttles that pilots may have to navigate around, as well as a 360-degree view, which similar training options lack.

The ATTC is estimated to significantly decrease in-air pilot training time, which in turn reduces the fuel expenses for and wear-and-tear on field aircrafts. The Innovation Center has found that new pilots with ATTC access have increased their repetitive training and real-time feedback loop by 25%.

In light of the ATTC, AFWERX, an R&D project of the U.S. Air Force, invited the Federal Group's Innovation Center to share its solution at San Antonio. AFWERX brings academic and industry teams to apply their latest innovations to government challenges. It is also a chance for R&D professionals to talk to Air Force personnel to understand their challenges and what solutions they may need.

AFWERX coincides with FORCECON, a major gaming and technology conference where PBDC employees can learn the latest in AI and cybertechnologies specifically for military purposes. The Federal Group was represented at both FORCECON and AFWERX conferences in San Antonio May 28 – 29. The team successfully demonstrated the ATTC and heard interest from several parties who agreed that the ATTC can increase pilot training efficiency.

PBDC: FORMS NEW BUSINESS UNIT TO DEVELOP ELECTRIC VEHICLE OFFERINGS

Milwaukee (PRWEB) June 15, 2022

Electric vehicle sales in the United States have grown at an average annual rate of more than 40 percent since 2016. By 2035, some of the world's largest automotive markets will have transitioned to selling only electric vehicles - providing both a glimpse of a greener future and significant economic opportunity. Looking to this burgeoning market, Potawatomi Business Development Corporation (PBDC) announced today the creation of a new Business Unit focused exclusively on researching and deploying offerings in the emerging electric vehicle technology (EV) space. PBDC is actively establishing a set of commercially viable initiatives and products that may include partnerships, joint ventures, and acquisitions.

"The Forest County Potawatomi Community has at its core an enduring commitment to the environment and building a sustainable and healthy world," said Randy Mueller, Chief Executive Officer, PBDC. "We believe strategic investing in the electric vehicle ecosystem will build a long term and profitable high growth business for the Tribe while expanding their footprint and commitment to sustainability."

According to Mueller, the company will take a broad approach to its evaluation of market opportunities, including segments beyond charging and batteries.

"We are looking at enabling technologies such as merchandising applications, integration applications, software OEMs, and POS integration applications and integrators. This approach aligns well with other EV efforts the Forest County Potawatomi Community has already established."

PBDC has observed a growing need for electric vehicle technologies across its customers and subsidiaries and has positioned the new Business Unit to develop innovative solutions to meet this need. "We own, operate, and service a diverse group of businesses through our work with the PBDC Federal Group, Greenfire Management Services, Data Holdings, PBDC Travel Centers and PBDC Real Estate Group," said Mueller. "We expect all to provide significant synergies pertaining to efforts in the EV market."

Potawatomi Business Development Corporation looks forward to collaborating with multiple strategic partners in the academic, industry, governmental and research sectors to build its platform of EV offerings.

Established in 2002 as the economic development and income diversification business of the Forest County Potawatomi Community (FCPC), the PBDC is headquartered in Milwaukee and currently employs more than 1,000 people across the United States. Resources generated by PBDC and its holdings help diversify the Tribal economy that supports Forest County Potawatomi's Tribal government and helps improve the lives of its members.
